

英文作文 試題

(限用答案本作答)

Undoubtedly, the importance of English has been increased considerably in recent years. English has emerged as a global language and as a major international tool of communication. As a consequence, the topic of how to learn English effectively has drawn a lot of attention nowadays. There are several different approaches to effective English learning and are advocated by English academics or educators. As an EFL learner yourself, please write an essay, at least 200 words long and not exceed 500 words, by exploiting mixed rhetoric writing styles such as narration, description, cause and effect, argumentation and so on to describe how you learned English, what approaches you adopted to learn English, what methods you regard them as good ways to learn English well, and also provide reasons to explain and support your statements. Please bear in mind that your essay needs to have an opening paragraph, several supporting paragraphs and a concluding paragraph and it will be evaluated according to criteria, i.e. content, organisation, grammar and mechanics.
